Customer Reviews

Beautifully produced small volume of extracts from several publications available from this and related international publishers. The sources of Baha'i writings exist in original manuscripts housed in archives in Haifa, Israel, at the Baha'i world administrative center. The teachings of this new world religion illumine the core teachings of other major world faiths and point humanity toward a future of reconciliation and progress. Other volumes in this series address various major themes of the Baha'i sources and are equally exquisite in their presentation. Highly recommended for students of religion and human affairs.

Another look at Spiritual views. We all could use some growth.
