Tramp For The Lord

Synopsis

In 1940, Corrie ten Boom was living with her father and sister above their watch shop in Haarlem, Holland—and when their country was invaded, this devoutly Christian family provided sanctuary for persecuted Jews. Before long, the Nazis captured Corrie and her family. They were sent to a concentration camp, where Corrie lost both her sister and father. But remarkably, throughout this turbulent time, Corrie sustained the faith in God that helped her become one of the most beloved evangelists of her time. Tramp for the Lord continues Corrie ten Boom's extraordinary journey of hope following the events recounted in her bestseller The Hiding Place. From her near-destitute days in postwar New York to heart-stopping adventures in Africa, Corrie's inspirational life story proves that miracles do happen.

Customer Reviews

For those who have read Corrie Ten Boom's, The Hiding Place, you'll know that this is an amazing lady. Corrie Ten Boom was a Dutch Christian who helped Jews escape the Nazi's in World War 2. Discovered by the Gestapo, she and 4 other members of her family were deported to Ravensbrück concentration camp. After I read The Hiding Place, I was delighted to learn about Corrie's next book, Tramp for the Lord. I have read it as well as listened to it as an audiobook. Tramp for the Lord details Corrie's life after her release from Ravensbrück. For the next 30 years, Corrie travelled the world spreading the message of Jesus and his great love for us. There are two things about this book that really resonate with me. First is the fact that Corrie travelled the world sharing God's message, not as a young woman, but as a woman in her 50's--she continued until she was in her 80's. Amazing! Her life's work began when most of us are thinking of retirement. I am encouraged and inspired about what lies ahead in my own future. We are never too old to accomplish our dreams and the plan that our Heavenly Father has for us in our lives. The second thing that resonates with me is Corrie Ten Boom's character and personality. Tramp for the Lord describes a remarkable woman and the lives she touched through her travels. Although she was known and loved by thousands of people around the world who listened to her message, she remained humble and never took credit for her work--she gave the credit to God. Her popularity did not go to her head; she was very down-to-earth and never hesitated to admit her weaknesses and to ask forgiveness of others. She never put herself on a pedestal or sought fame and glory for herself.
